COMMITTEES

Planning For American Catholic Federation Convention Here.

Parade Will Be One That Will Not Be Soon Forgotten.

Will Bring Noted Churchmen and Fifty Thousand Visitors.

REPRESENTS MILLION CATHOLICS

A largely attended meeting of the members of the various committees having in charge the arrangements for the coming eleventh annual convention of the American Federation of Catholic Societies, to be held in Louisville August 18-21, was held on Thursday evening at the Catholic Woman's Club. The members of the various committees are beginning to appreciate the importance of the convention and the magnitude of the work before them. To arrange for the entertainment of 600 delegates is a big undertaking in itself, but when it is considered that at least 50,000 visitors are expected its magnitude may be appreciated. Among the visitors will be eminent clergymen and distinguished laymen from all over the United States. Every congregation in the city and the pastors thereof have been urged to do their part, and they are responding cheerfully. Until a very short time ago but few of the clergy or laity knew of the importance and magnitude of the Federation, which represents over a million Catholic men in the United States. It is the intention of the committee, made up from every Catholic society in the city, to leave nothing undone to make the convention a notable one not only in a moral and religious sense but in a civic way. The parade, the features of which have not yet been completely mapped out, will be one of the attractions which will not soon be forgotten. The fact that Col. John H. Whalen is at the head of this feature of the programme, and that he is probably the most enthusiastic member of the Executive Committee, is one assurance that nothing will be left undone to make it a success.

One of the lasting features of the convention and one which the delegates can take home with them as a reminder of their visit will be the publication in connection with the history of the diocese of Louisville and an epitome of the history of the diocese of Vincennes. Louisville is the oldest diocese in the West, and it has sent forth many Bishops and distinguished priests to other dioceses throughout the country, and the same may be said of the diocese of Vincennes, now called the diocese of Indianapolis. The Executive Committee has engaged Mr. Ed Fitzpatrick to do this historical work, which is an assurance that it will be done properly.

Col. P. H. Callahan has charge of the entertainment and is ably assisted by other prominent men. Col. Callahan has had wide experience in the line of entertaining, and his enthusiasm in the work indicates that the visitors will not go home saying that Kentucky hospitality is a myth. Dr. Charles Edelin is at the head of a committee which is in charge of the entertainment, and that is reception, and he is doing everything to make his part of the work a success.

A very important announcement was made by "the man behind the guns," as it were, at the last meeting, that is, the Chairman of the Finance Committee, Jacob Hubbuch, who said he had money, but he could not pay it out as the fiscal officer had not yet completed his bond, but this was attended to. Finance is a very important feature connected with the meeting, but in the hands of Chairman Hubbuch everything promises to be well.

Dr. Peter J. Ganz presided at the two last meetings, and his excellent work also attended. Mrs. Ganz is at the head of the committee to entertain the lady delegates and visitors and there promises to be plenty of work for the ladies' committee to do.

Messrs. E. J. Cooney, Tom Keenan, Walter Hillerich, Leo W. Goss, L. J. Mackey, V. H. Ecker, V. B. Smith, P. J. Sullivan, P. J. Broen, David O'Connell and others who are at the head of important committees made reports indicating progress in their work.

From this time on the committees will be very active, and the members appreciate the fact that they will have to step lively in order to do things properly. Frequent meetings of the committee and of the sub-committees will be held as the occasion requires.

BURNS PROVE FATAL.

Jessie Whittenberg, the eleven-year-old daughter of Dr. J. I. Whittenberg, Superintendent of the Frutkin Hospital, met with a painful and shocking death Tuesday, and for the bereaved parents there is widespread and heartfelt sympathy. The child was burning some waste paper in a ditch some distance from the house when the paper flared into a large blaze and ignited her clothing. At first only a small part of her skirt was aflame, but upon seeing it she ran screaming to her home. Fanned by the wind, the blaze soon completely enveloped her. Her cries attracted Dr. Clark, who extinguished the flames on the remaining shreds of her clothing, which clung to her body. She was terribly burned about the body, hands and face, and died a few hours afterward.

GONE TO REST.

Mother Eutrophia Falls Victim to Attack of Apoplexy.

Catholics of Louisville and throughout the country were gravely shocked last Monday when telegrams brought news of the sudden death at Nazareth of Mother Eutrophia McMahon. Mother Eutrophia had been in excellent health until Sunday, when she was stricken with apoplexy that caused her death Monday morning. Before becoming connected with the Sisters of Nazareth Mother Eutrophia was Miss Mary McMahon, of near Jackson, Miss. She was graduated from Nazareth in 1873, and shortly afterward became Mother Superior at Mt. Vernon, Ohio. From there she came to the Presentation Academy, this city, where she was Mother Superior for fifteen years. Two years ago Mother Eutrophia went to Nazareth, and since last July had been Mother General of her order. She was one of the most popular Mother Superiors Nazareth has ever had, and under her administration the school has been more prosperous than at any time for many years.

The funeral services were held Thursday morning at St. Vincent's church, when solemn requiem mass was sung by the Very Rev. James P. Cronin, V. G., the Rev. Dr. George W. Schumann assisting as deacon, and the Rev. Eugene P. Donahue as sub-deacon. The Rev. Patrick Monaghan was master of ceremonies, and the Right Rev. Denis O'Donoghue delivered the funeral oration. The interment was in the cemetery at Nazareth. Attending the solemn obsequies were Bishop Mackin and many of the clergy from Kentucky, Arkansas and Ohio, who were conveyed to Nazareth on a special train from this city.

Y. M. I.

Easter Communion, Initiation and Banquet For Mackin.

Tomorrow will be a field day for Mackin Council, when thirty-five Catholic young men will be added to its ranks in a manner befitting the progressive organization. The day's observance will begin at St. Charles' Borromeo church, where the members and candidates will assemble to attend a special mass at 7:30 o'clock in the morning and receive their Easter communion in a body. This will be an edifying sight, and it is the duty of every member to be present. Rev. Father Raffo will celebrate the mass and preach the sermon.

In the afternoon at 2 o'clock the initiation of the thirty-five candidates will take place at the club house. The honors will be conferred by Attorney Robert T. Burke and the State degree team, who will exemplify the degrees in a very impressive manner. Upon the completion of this work special cars will be taken for the Tyler Hotel, where the day will close with a banquet at 7:30 o'clock. James T. Shelley, Mackin's first President, will act as toastmaster, and among those who will respond to toasts are Attorney A. J. Bizot, Seb. Hubbuch, Secretary W. A. Link and George Thornton. Several of the clergy have been invited and are expected to grace the occasion with their presence. The committee that made the arrangements is composed of George J. Lantz, Joseph Steltenpohl and A. C. Link, who are entitled to praise for their work.

ASHLAND.

Hibernians Pay Homage to Their Patron Saint.

The observance of St. Patrick's day this year took many forms as in times past, but nowhere was it given more fitting or happy recognition than at Ashland, where the Hibernians were early astir. In the morning they attended high mass and received holy communion in a body at the Church of the Holy Family, where the pastor, Rev. N. N. Gosselin, preached a special sermon, in which he paid eloquent tribute to Ireland's apostle and the splendid moral effect set by his children in approaching the altar on St. Patrick's morning. The evening was spent at the home of Mrs. Mary Holmes, where a pleasant entertainment and refreshments were provided for members of the division and auxiliary. J. E. Purcell writes that Division 1 is growing very rapidly, news that will be welcomed by all the divisions in the State.

BISHOP LUDDEN.

The Right Rev. Patrick A. Ludden, Bishop of Syracuse, will celebrate on May 1 the twenty-fifth anniversary of his elevation to the episcopacy. Bishop Ludden has refused a nurse and will have no public celebration, but expects to take a trip South and will not be home on the anniversary day.

ANNIVERSARY.

Catholic Knights of America Are Now Thirty-Five Years Old.

What This Grand Order Has Done For Widows and Orphan.

Has the Approval of Holy Father, Cardinals, Bishops and Priests.

FITTING RELIGIOUS OBSERVANCE

The Catholic Knights of America, with many branches in the three Falls Cities, will soon celebrate the thirty-fifth anniversary of its existence, arrangements for which will be perfected here by the Central Committee. In this connection the Supreme President, Dr. Felix Gaudin, of New Orleans, under whose administrative the Catholic Knights have taken first place in the ranks of fraternal insurance societies, has issued a proclamation giving a history of the order and a prospective view of the future. The letter deserves general circulation and will be read with great interest. The Catholic Knights of America will celebrate its thirty-fifth anniversary Sunday, April 21, in a most fitting way, by the members of all branches approaching the holy table in the morning, in their respective churches, and by many branches holding open meetings in the afternoon or evening. The Catholic Knights of America will be on that day a Catholic society in fact as well as in name. From the very inception did this order enjoy the good wishes and confidence of the hierarchy and clergy, and especially so since the re-erecting in 1904, when their confidence was increased, thanks to the wise counsels of the order's Supreme Spiritual Director, the Most Rev. J. J. Glennon, Archbishop of St. Louis, who at all times urged the adoption of safe and sound rates. The rates of the Catholic Knights of America are the same that have been approved by the Insurance Commissioners of the country as being adequate, and already thirteen States of the Union have laws which all fraternal orders must adopt if they desire to continue to do business in said States. These rates have placed the Catholic Knights of America in the enviable position of being among the strongest of fraternal insurance orders, as its pro-rata share in its mortuary fund is larger than that of any of the fraternal orders doing business in the United States. This security, coupled with its loyal religious activities in such movements as the American Federation of Catholic Societies, which the C. K. of A. assisted in founding, and in organizing in many States, has brought to it the warmest recognition on the part of the clergy and episcopacy.

The Catholic Knights of America has received the approval and blessing of the late Pontiff Leo XIII. on six different occasions. The present Holy Father, Pope Pius X., has also bestowed his blessing upon the order on several occasions. No Catholic fraternal insurance society in the United States has as many prelates among its active members as the C. K. of A.

Among the illustrious members of the hierarchy are His Eminence John Cardinal Farley, Archbishop of New York; Most Rev. James H. Hank, S. M., Archbishop of New Orleans; Most Rev. E. O'Connell, formerly Archbishop of Victoria, B. C.; Right Rev. H. J. Alerding, Bishop of Ft. Wayne; Right Rev. P. S. Chataud, Bishop of Indianapolis; Right Rev. N. A. Gallagher, Bishop of Galveston; Right Rev. A. J. Glorieux, Bishop of Boise, Idaho; Right Rev. T. P. Little, Bishop of Leavenworth; Right Rev. N. C. Metz, Bishop of Denver; Right Rev. Theo. Meerschbaert, Bishop of Oklahoma City; Right Rev. J. J. Monaghan, Bishop of Wilmington; Right Rev. John B. Morris, Bishop of Little Rock; Right Rev. Denis O'Donoghue, Bishop of Louisville; Right Rev. J. W. Shanahan, Bishop of Harrisburg; Right Rev. C. Van de Ven, Bishop of Alexandria, La.; Right Rev. J. H. Thien, Bishop of Lincoln; Right Rev. J. M. Laval, Auxiliary Bishop of New Orleans. Making a total of one Cardinal, two Archbishops, fourteen Bishops and two priests who are members of the Catholic Knights of America.

The order of the Catholic Knights of America was founded in Nashville, Tenn., in 1877, and one of its founders and chief promoters was the Right Rev. Bishop Feehan, D. D., Bishop of Nashville, Tenn., who later became Archbishop of Chicago. In next week's issue will be given the programme as completed by the Central Committee. As thus far outlined it provides that the religious celebration will take place at St. John's church, Clay and Walnut, when a special high mass will be sung by the Very Rev. George Schumann, V. G., pastor of the Falls Cities, including the two uniform rank companies, will attend and approach holy communion in a body. Arrangements are also being made for a big meeting in the evening of the same day.

THEY WON'T LAST LONG.

The "Guardians of Liberty," close of kin to the dead A. P. A., still continues its torpid existence despite the fact that its "star members" have been lopped off by the force of publicity. It is said that toads will live for a time without their brains, tritons without their heads, and that a frog will croak even after it has parted with its heart. Possibly this may serve as an explanation of the "Guardians" existence without the sustaining power of Miles and Skinner.

MACKIN COUNCIL

Votes to Attend the Production of "Sergeant Kitty."

Mackin Council showed its good spirit Monday night when by unanimous vote it was decided to send its officers and the Choral Club to the Masonic Theater to witness Trinity Council Musical Club's production of "Sergeant Kitty." President Adams announced a number of applications for membership and also that William O'Sullivan, Deputy Building Inspector, had presented the council a splendid portrait of Arthur Bell, one of the first members of the Y. M. I. in Kentucky, who died eighteen years ago. The council heard with regret of the bereavement of Al Smith and Henry Nitzken, and the Secretary was instructed to send each a letter of condolence. Encouraging reports were submitted by the Opera Committee, who promise the best production that Mackin has ever undertaken. Congratulations were extended to Dr. Vincent Paillet, now living in Little Rock, and William Schmidt, who have deserted the Bachelors' Club and will soon become Benedictines.

RECENT DEATHS.

The funeral of Frank Maloney, who met his death Saturday night, took place Tuesday morning from St. Louis Bertrand's church, many friends attending the sad obsequies. The deceased was twenty-one years old and a nephew of Thomas Lynch, with whom he resided, his parents having died some years ago.

Monday morning the funeral of Mrs. Theresa Nitzken took place from St. Mary's church, of which she was for over half a century a most faithful member. Mrs. Nitzken was widely known in Catholic circles and was ever ready to help the unfortunate poor, by many of whom she will be missed. Surviving her are two sons, Henry and William Nitzken; one daughter, Mrs. Charles Timberman, and thirteen grandchildren.

The funeral of Joseph Vetter, who died Monday morning, took place Wednesday morning from the Church of the Immaculate Conception, many friends and relatives being present at the mass of requiem. His death was caused by blood poisoning that resulted from the extraction of a tooth some weeks ago. The deceased was thirty years old, and was the son of Joseph Vetter, 1007 West Market street. Besides his widow and two children he is survived by two sisters and five brothers.

HOME RULE.

Barometer Is Set Fair and Rising Declares John Redmond.

Financial Problems Forms the Great Problem Confronting Measure.

Only Danger Lies in Uncertainty of Liberals Retaining Power.

APPROVED BY IRISH LEADERS

"The barometer is set fair and is rising," was the declaration of John E. Redmond Saturday at the Kings-town pier. The Irish Nationalist leader was on his return to London to resume conferences with the Cabinet on important points in the home rule bill to be introduced in the House of Commons Thursday. These conferences are carried on in the historic Cabinet room in Downing street, where for the first time Irish Nationalists have been received. The drafting of the bill has been entrusted to a Cabinet committee which reports periodically to the whole Cabinet. The Prime Minister presides over the committee and the Irish leaders, who heretofore have rather distrusted Asquith on the home rule, have found him the most liberal of all the members of the Cabinet when points of differences have arisen.

The bill will resemble Gladstone's 1893 scheme in several important particulars, especially the retaining of forty Irish members in the Imperial Parliament for imperial purposes and the creating of an upper house in Dublin of about the same number. The first intention was to have one-fourth of the Upper House nominated, but in view of the pending reform of the House of Lords the Radical Ministers thought that would establish an awkward precedent, as they are against any nominated element here. This point is still unsettled. The Irish members are against a nominated element, but would assent to it if the Irish minority would accept it as security for their protection. The constabulary is to be gradually transformed into a civil force, being now constituted on a military basis. When the transformation is complete it will be placed under the control of the Irish Parliament. This is also a point which may yet be modified. There will be a prohibition against the employment of other preferential treatment of any religious faith. The control of the army and navy and the foreign policy will remain wholly with the Imperial Parliament, but the Irish Parliament will be empowered to deal with all matters except those that are expressly reserved.

The financial arrangements are proving the crux of the whole scheme and are still a subject of consideration. A small party in Ireland demands control of the customs and excise, which were reserved to the Imperial Parliament in the Gladstone bills. Chairman Redmond regards this demand as an effort to embarrass the Nationalist party and belittle any home rule scheme. Certainly the demand comes wholly from the Unionists and a few disaffected Nationalists, who think such a concession would give them a powerful argument against the bill with the English electorate. It is understood that a compromise has been arranged by which under which the Irish Parliament will have the power to levy certain imposts, according to Ireland's special needs, with the assent of the Imperial Parliament.

The Irish National convention will assemble in Dublin April 23 to pass upon the bill, and it is stated that John E. Redmond, John Dillon and T. P. O'Connor, who know what the bill is, are quite satisfied that the convention will accept it by an overwhelming majority, if not unanimously.

It is not an Ulster revolt—which is mainly bluff—nor the action of the National convention, that now threatens home rule, but the ability of the present Liberal Government to survive the two more sessions needed to carry the bill over the veto of the House of Lords. No one can speak positively on that point, and although the present omens are not particularly favorable, owing to the current unpopularity of the insurance act and the reactionary effect of the labor unrest, these influences may prove only transitory.

IOWA IN LEAD.

Branch 944, of Earlring, Iowa, is leading in the prize contest being conducted under the auspices of the Supreme Council of the Catholic Knights of America. During the first ten weeks of the year twelve of the contesting branches increased the membership 110. There are others yet to report and there will be many changes of position before the contest closes on July 1.

QUETLY WEDDED.

Wallace B. Young, associated with Block Bros., wholesale whiskey dealers, and Miss Florence Tully, crossed over to Jeffersonville Wednesday evening and were quietly wedded by the Rev. Father O'Connell at St. Augustine's. The young people kept their engagement a secret, and news of their marriage will be a pleasant surprise to their hosts of friends and admirers. The bride is the daughter of John Tully, famous as a life saver, and is a young lady of many accomplishments. Mr. Young is a relative of Col. Bennett H. Young and is well known in Main street business circles.

CARROLLTON.

Young Men's Institute Will Present Window to St. John's.

St. George's Council, Y. M. I., of Carrollton, is now in excellent shape and its members are all working hard in an effort to raise funds to pay for a window in the new St. John's church, now being completed by the Rev. Father Clement J. Bocklage. Father Bocklage has been ably assisted by the Y. M. I., and when St. John's is ready for dedication it will be not only as handsome as any church in the Covington diocese, but also practically free of debt. St. George's Council will soon include in its membership all the Catholic young men of Carrollton, and will soon begin work on a number of improvements on the hall and club house. With such men as John Glauber, Dr. M. Casey, Casper Hill, J. Grobmeyer, L. Framme and Casper Feller to push the work, the Y. M. I. of Carrollton should succeed in their every undertaking.

FEDERATION

Convention Given a Hearty Indorsement at Division Four.

At the meeting of Division 4, A. O. H., on Monday evening at Bertrand Hall, the coming convention of the National Catholic Federation was given a hearty indorsement by short addresses on the local federation's plans and arrangements by William Callaghan, John J. Score and S. J. McElliot, these speakers urging every Hibernian to put his shoulder to the wheel and make this the biggest Catholic feature ever held south of the Ohio river. An invitation was received from the Ladies' Auxiliary to attend their social session next Wednesday evening, and President Hennessy urged the members to try and attend if possible. On account of business duties Robert Mitchell tendered his resignation as a member of the Executive Committee, which was received with regret, as his services to the division in that capacity have been much appreciated by the officers and members. John Phelan and Harry Brady were reported on the sick list, also David Reilly, the assistant keeper of the division exchequer, who has been confined to his home this past week with a slight attack of angina.

INTEREST

Shown in Trinity Council Affairs Monday Night.

Though Easter Monday interfered somewhat with the attendance at Trinity Council plenty of interest was shown in the business transacted, the Membership Committee keeping up its good work by presenting more applications. The officers of Trinity now feel confident that the class for initiation on April 28 will number at least fifty. Dan J. Hennessy read extracts from a magazine telling of the rapid growth of the Catholic church in the United States as viewed by a prominent Protestant minister and was accorded the closest attention. The Opera Committee reported everything encouraging for the production of "Sergeant Kitty," all connected therewith making earnest effort in putting the finishing touches on the show. Followers of the Dance Committee were entertained and a good crowd was in attendance. The dance was one of the most enjoyable of the season.

GAELIC LEAGUE.

The Gaelic League has the cordial approval of all parties in Ireland. It has a platform that is bringing all sections of the people together and making them realize the proud heritage of their nationality. Wherever its delegates have gone for the past year their visit has been followed by a revival of interest in Ireland and by an increase in the membership of the societies under whose auspices their meetings were carried out. In many cities the delegates and their three highly accomplished young ladies from three of the leading schools of Ireland have been giving exhibitions, where countless thousands of the general American public got their first glimpse of the art and culture of Ireland. The league representatives will be in this country for some time, and it is hoped the local Irish societies may induce them to visit Louisville.

CHARITY EUCHE.

The young ladies of St. Cecilia's parish invite all their friends to be given under their auspices next Tuesday afternoon and evening at St. Cecilia's Hall. Much time and effort have been expended in arranging for this entertainment and all who attend are assured an evening of real pleasure. The proceeds will be devoted to charity work in the West End.

READY

For Rise of Curtain For Trinity Musical Club's Opera.

Artistic Presentation of "Sergeant Kitty" at the Masonic Theater.

Cast and Chorus Will Equal Any Seen Here This Season.

SEATS GO ON SALE MONDAY

Everything is now ready for the rise of the curtain on Trinity Musical Club's greatest operatic production, "Sergeant Kitty," which will be seen at the Masonic Theater on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, April 22, 23 and 24. For some months the large cast and chorus have been rehearsing this pleasing opera under the direction of Prof. Leo A. Schmitt and P. Wellington Hager, and an artistic and perfect performance is assured. "Sergeant Kitty" abounds with catchy music, clean comedy, gorgeous costumes and songs that will meet with popular favor. The plot of the play is laid in the village of Montigny, France, about the year 1830, and tells the story of the elopement of a young girl and her soldier lover, and is replete with situations that are perplexing and amusing. For this year's production great care was taken in the selection of the cast, which includes the following young ladies and gentlemen:

Sergeant Kitty, Mrs. Frances Schranz Schmitt.
Lucien Valliere, Joseph A. Hehemann.
Louise De Merillac, Miss Ollie Frank.
Ninon, Miss Mary B. Hinkle.
Jacques Jouguerre, Albert M. Hermann.
Henry De Merillac, Joseph Wettle.
General Du Bois, John Hodapp.
Mme. Anguelle, Miss Mary Zoerner.
Babette, Miss Lee Hernden.
Suzette, Miss Catherine Gnaul.
Sergeant Lefevre, Coleman A. Ridge.
Pierre Piorin, John M. Hennessy.
Jean Connelton, R. Irving Lardner.
Celestin Brideaux, P. Wellington Hager.
Notary Le Van, Albert Daly.
First Gendarme, Louis Schranz.
Second Gendarme, James Perry.
The chorus has been perfectly drilled and the military evolutions will add much interest to the performance. The costumes will be elegant and add brilliancy to the entire ensemble. This will be the largest ever seen at a like entertainment in Louisville, and will include Misses Grace Kline, Clara Schueman, Olivia Bosse, Nell Schmitt, Violet Musselman, Catherine Ecker, Ida Lehr, Rubel Smith, Anna Stucker, Elsie Rensselaer, Teresa Hamling, Lillie May Baker, Rose Brigan, Corrine Janssen, Lillian Lankford, Corrine Lyons, Ethel Wise, Anna Burns, Elsie Burns, S. Frank, Mary Recktenwald, Barbara Schweickert, Mary McCann, Elizabeth Katsman, Margaret Winter, Beale Rogers, Irene Schaeffer, Ella Corbett, Mary Leach, and Messrs. Leo Krebs, Mike Filburn, James Perry, Louis Schranz, Edward Krebs, Martin Ridge, William Kirchdorfer, Arthur Hamilton, James Naughton, Henry Dries, Paul Bowling, B. J. Kollros, Dan Tivinen, P. Tivinen, Otto F. Recktenwald, B. Ministerketter, Harry J. Hennessy, P. Bauscher, Martin Cusick and Charles Bode.

There has been such a demand for tickets that success is already assured, and therefore there will be a long line at the box office when the seats go on sale Monday morning. Trinity Council has spared nothing that would add to its operatic offering, and therefore deserves the support and encouragement of the entire public. Masonic Theater should be overcrowded at every performance, and we predict that those who fail to attend will miss a delightful treat.

NOTEWORTHY UTTERANCE.

Ex-Gov. John D. Long, speaking in Boston recently, paid a noteworthy tribute to the power of the Catholic church in promoting and safeguarding social and political order and advancement. After calling attention to the strong character and sound common sense of the people of New England, irrespective of class or race, he said: "Another great safeguard is the habit of thrift, and we also have the aids in our religious institutions, especially in the Roman Catholic church, now growing so rapidly among us. If there is anything especially essential in these Catholic institutions it is the sense of order and obedience and submission to higher authority."

INVITE THEIR FRIENDS.

The Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., invite all members of the order and their friends to the reception and eucure party to be given next Wednesday night at Falls City Hall, when a pleasant evening is assured. A pleasing programme has been arranged and some very beautiful prizes will be distributed. The proceeds will go to the fund to defray expenses for the State convention.

POPE PIUS X. LIVES.

The Christian world was shocked Thursday morning when extras of the daily papers announced the unexpected and sudden death of Pope Pius X. Within a few hours afterward came news that there was no foundation for the rumor, and that the beloved Pontiff was alive and well, which was received with expressions of gratitude from Catholic and non-Catholic alike. Catholics everywhere gave thanks to God when the truth became known and prayed that his life may long be spared.

BRADLEY CONTROLS.

The Republicans of Kentucky met in delegate convention in Louisville on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Previous to the meeting the delegates from the Fifth district, including the Taft and Roosevelt followers, compromised their differences, each side taking half of the local delegation.

The convention itself was dominated by Senator William O. Bradley, and when the Kentucky Irish American went to press they were still wrangling.

The fact that the Fifth district wranglers compromised led to the belief that the Roosevelt and Taft men would be harmonious throughout the State, but it seems they are so far apart and so many oppose Senator Bradley that they will never be able to get together in time for the November election. In no event can they carry Kentucky.

BISHOP'S WARNING.

In a solemn warning against the dangerous encroachments of Socialism not only in England and Scotland and many Continental States, but also in Ireland, Bishop Clancy calls upon the people of Sligo not to be lulled into a false position by the pretended sympathy with the poor of Socialists who are now trying to gain a foothold in certain Irish cities. From his address we take the following, which all Catholic men should know:

"Socialism pretends to find a panacea for poverty and all other social evils. But its remedies are at best the unsound and unscientific prescriptions of the quack. To convince ourselves of this we have only to reflect that the principles of Socialism as a system of economics have been condemned by two Popes in succession as contrary to the moral law, and that, as is manifest from the present conditions of industrial life in England and Germany, the evils which it brings in its train are far greater than those it proposes to redress."

VALUE TO SOUTH.

Henry D. Graves, Chief Forester of the United States Department of Agriculture, in an address Monday before the Southern Commercial Congress at Nashville pointed out the value of the timber interests in the Southern States, giving statistics and suggestions that should receive careful attention. He says in part: "In any consideration of the industrial development of the South, the problems which stand out as most important are those connected with agriculture and forestry. The South is favored with climate and soil especially advantageous both for agriculture and for the production of forests. Its cut of lumber aggregates some twenty-four billion feet a year, or over half of that used in the entire nation. Other industries bring the value of the products of the forests today to upward of $550,000,000. Louisiana now stands second only to the State of Washington in the production of lumber, while Mississippi, North Carolina, Arkansas, Virginia and Texas are all ahead of any other State. The lumber industry of the South employs some 217,000 persons, and the allied industries require over 200,000 more. There is no region except the far Northwest where forestry is so simple and the results so sure as in the South. It is entirely practical to secure from the area which should be permanently in forest from twenty to thirty billion feet in the long run, by annual growth, if the forest is properly handled. Much of this area is in the mountains and the very management for timber production will secure the indirect benefits of the forest."

The problem before the department touches the method of handling the forests in a way to benefit the South permanently. It is claimed that unless there is a correction of the existing conditions the supply of forest products will not be maintained, local industries will decline or vanish, land values will be permanently reduced, and the benefits arising from the mere existence of well managed forests will be lost, with unfortunate results.

IRELAND'S STRUGGLE.

Ireland's struggle for home rule has now entered almost the last stage, and with brighter prospects than ever before. The great gathering of Irish Nationalists in Dublin afforded an unmistakable proof of the real solidarity and unity of the masses of the people of the country in their demand for home rule and their confidence in the Irish party. Such an object lesson, says the Dundalk Democrat, was urgently called for. For some considerable time past there has been an apparent slackening in the outward expressions of the country's political faith. Beyond an occasional provincial demonstration here and there the Nationalists had few of the great gatherings that, from O'Connell's time onward, have been used to demonstrate the political faith of the people. True, the adherence of the masses of the people to the national organization has been amply proved in other ways. The war chest has been filled during the past three years to a point not reached since Parnell's time, and where the political opinions of the people were tested in the polling booths it was proved over and over again that their faith in home rule and their confidence in the Irish party have not abated a jot. Home rule has in fact become a settled conviction with the vast majority of Irishmen, and there was no need for demonstrations either to arouse their enthusiasm or to inculcate sound political principle. The members of Parliament, too, have been busily engaged in English constituencies for a long time past educating John Bull as to the true meaning and effect of what Ireland means when she says she wants home rule, and in strengthening the hands of the English friends of that policy.

While Premier Asquith and his party are sincere in their advocacy of home rule, it will be, no doubt, a bitter and obstinate struggle. The enemies of home rule have been concentrating their forces and perfecting their plans for many a month. One of their favorite devices in the skirmishing that has been carried on since home rule became a matter of practical politics has been to represent Ireland as a country contented and apathetic, satisfied with possession of the land, anxious to remain under the shelter of Westminster, fearful that under a home government its financial burden might become intolerable. In support of these contentions all the artillery of Ulster has been brought into play, while every crank and hireling and notoriety-hunter has been encouraged to discharge his little pop-gun in the hope of annoying, if not impeding, the Nationalist advance. If Nationalist Ireland has been calm and self-restrained since home rule came into the sphere of practical politics it is because she has been confident of victory—confident in her own strength, and confident in the justice of her cause, and confident in the men whom she has sent to Westminster to fight her battles. The Dublin meeting most effectively answered the challenge of the enemies of home rule and proved that the national sentiment as regards self-government is as strong and active as ever, and not as its enemies contend, confined to an interested group of politicians and agitators.

The Catholic population in the United States increased 4,038,812 during the past ten years. Among the States Kentucky ranks nineteenth, with 158,945. New York leads with 2,778,076.

THINGS BEST LEFT UNSAID.

A party of women were going through a penitentiary under the escort of a superintendent. They came to a room in which three women were sewing away steadily. "Dear me," said one of the women softly to the superintendent, "what vicious looking creatures. What did they do? What are they here for?" "Because they have no other home. This is our sewing room, and they are my wife and daughters," blandly answered the man.

DOES NOT HURT.

If you will analyze Irish wit you will find it is more kindly and ludicrous and mirth provoking than any other. Irish wit is as soft as the morning mist, and the one who is the butt of the witticism also laughs. Never is the shaft poisoned and the wound so deep that laughter rings not the circle round.

FANS CONFIDENT
That Colonels Are a Sure First Division Team.

As an indication of the renewed interest and confidence in the Louisville baseball club and Owner Grayson and Manager Jack Tighe the splendid attendance of the past couple of days is striking proof that as a ball town Louisville is second to none its size in the country, the opening day crowd being the banner one in local association history. The opening day certainly reminded one of the big show, having a "Headliner" and a "Barker" for the show. With the exception of a few chronic kickers everyone thus far is satisfied that we have a first division team and in all probability a pennant contender, and a team that when working together will look better than the Minneapolis team does now, who have been going at that gait for several years and have passed the zenith of their ability, while the young material on the Colonels is just now being developed and are being picked by competent critics to beat out the slugging but aging Millers. The game today will be the closing one of the Minneapolis series, and Mike Kelly's St. Paul aggregation will open here tomorrow for a series of four games and the fans will see our old ex-manager, Del Howard, who is expected to be a star hitter this year. The fans and public in general have shown a disposition to support the team and management this season and are ready to discourage the knockers, who are quitting now and only exhibiting their own symptoms—the yellow streak.

LARGEST IN GERMANY.
The largest railway station in Germany has just been completed at Leipzig at a cost of $34,000,000. Heretofore the central station at Frankfurt has held the record for size. The new building at Leipzig has been in course of construction for the last nine years. The structure has almost unlimited space for the accommodation of freight and passenger traffic.

RENTED IRISH ESTATE.

AIR CUSHION SHOE.
Shoes with air cushions in the soles and heels form the subject of a recent patent.

CATHOLIC EDUCATION.
An intelligent mother thus summed up the reasons why she sent her six children to the parochial school:
First—Because I think the Catholic schools do better teaching than the State schools.
Second—Because the Sisters teach good manners to their pupils.
Third—Because I am too busy to instruct my children in my religion, and the Sisters do it for me.
Fourth—Because my boys learn to be docile and obedient.
Fifth—Because I have no difficulty in getting them to hear mass on Sunday.
Sixth—Because the children get school work to do at home; and I have them around me in the evening, instead of scattered about the streets.
Seventh—Because the children are so happy at school, and are so much attached to their teachers.
Eighth—Because I wish my boys and girls to become good Catholics.
Ninth—Because I want my children to save their souls.

RIDDLES.
When is a newspaper like a delicate child? When it appears weekly.
What tree is of the greatest importance in history? The date.
What is always behind time? The back of a clock.
Why does the conductor cut a hole in your ticket? To let you through.
Why are the pages of a book like the days of a man? Because they are numbered.
Why is an egg like a colt? Because it is not fit for use until it is broken.
Why is a dog like a tree? Because they both produce a bark.
I went out to the grove and got it; I sat down and looked for it. I could not find it, so I took it home with me. A thorn.
Why is an orange like a church steeple? Because we get a peal from it.
Goes to water and goes to grass, and never eats, and never drinks? A cowbell.
There is a place where it never rains or snows in and still it is wet? Your mouth.
What has only one foot? Your stocking.

GIRL-OLGY.
No matter what a girl's accomplishments may be, her education is incomplete if she has not some knowledge of bake-ology, boil-ology, roast-ology, stich-ology and mend-ology. Even if she should never be required to do the work herself, she ought to know whether it was done in a proper manner.

HOUSE PLANTS.
One of the common reasons why house plants fail to flourish is the use of large pots. The plant's health is endangered by over-watering and a sour soil. When a large pot is used there is so much soil in it to hold moisture that the surplus does not drain or evaporate away before the next watering is given. The pot used should be proportioned to the plant which is growing in it.

TRUE LADY.
A true lady is as much a lady washing her dinner dishes, preparing the vegetables for dinner, cleaning lamps and scrubbing floors, as when she is bending over her embroidery frame or easel in the pleasant sitting room. If she is so fortunate as to possess a servant she will use refined language and as gentle a voice in speaking to her as in her reception room entertaining the most cultured among her friends.

ORANGE SIRUP.
To each pint of orange juice add one pound of granulated sugar. Let it stand over night. In the morning boil it ten minutes and bottle. Two or three spoonfuls in a glass of cold water will make a delicious drink.

Indianapolis Council has set the mark for 1,000 members in 1912, and will confer the first degree on Monday, April 29. The second and third will be exemplified the latter part of May.

LATEST IN STYLE.

Shaped berthas of lace are predicted for a return.
The new skirt is draped or has the double or triple effect.
Striped and checked suits will be fashionable this season.
Silk takes a prominent place as hat trimming to form bows.
Platings of tulle, lace or net are used in every possible manner.
The changeable taffeta suits and gowns will require white gloves.
In millinery small flowers and tightly pressed designs are used.
There is a decided revival of the jacket bodice popular during the second empire.
The newest hat models show profuse ornaments of leaves, flowers, shirring and feathers.
Decidedly effective is the separate blouse of white linen, trimmed with plaid linen of blue or white.
Bordered fabrics are seen 'n self and contrasting colors of all kinds of materials, and are popular.
White corduroy is being used in separate skirts, and proves a most admirable material for that purpose.
Pongee is always durable and good looking. It can be combined with plain colors, plaid or striped materials.

VANILLA BISCUIT.

Three whites of eggs, four tablespoonfuls of sugar, a few drops of red coloring, one teaspoonful of vanilla extract, or one teaspoonful of orange flower water. Beat the whites up very stiffly; then add the sugar and flavoring gently. Put white paper over a baking tin. Put the mixture on in small teaspoonfuls. When half is used thus, add coloring to make the remainder pink. Bake in a slow oven.

LEMON FOAM.

Four eggs, two lemons, one cup of sugar. Beat the yolks thoroughly; add sugar, the juice and grated rind of the lemons and cook until it is creamy. Stir in gradually the stiffened beaten whites of the eggs. Serve cold in sherbert glasses. Delicious.

BED PAD.

Several thicknesses of paper will make an efficient bed pad, in the absence of the expensive rubber sheet. It is less heating than rubber and will answer all purposes of protection in any short illness. It is easily replaced.

SAVE STOCKING TOPS.

Save the tops of old stockings and draw them over your sealed fruit jars, to protect them from the light, which everybody ought to know, but many do not—will darken the color of the contents. You may pin a label upon each.

KNOW PAPA'S STRENGTH.

Johnny had been naughty, and his mother told him that he could choose between a whipping and being shut up in the cellar.
"Who will whip me—you or papa?" queried Johnny.
"Your papa," was the reply.
"Then it's the cellar for mine," rejoined the wise youngster.

NOT A JEW THERE.

He was quite evidently from the country, and he was also quite evidently a Yankee, and from behind his bowed spectacles he peered inquisitively at the little old Jew who occupied the other half of the car seat with him.
The little Jew looked at him deprecatingly.
"Nice day," he began, politely.
"You're a Jew, ain't you?" queried the Yankee.
"Yes, sir, I'm a clothing salesman," handing him a card.
"But you're a Jew?"
"Yes, yes, I'm a Jew," same the answer.
"Well," continued the Yankee, "I'm a Yankee, and in the little village in Maine where I came from I'm proud to say there ain't a Jew."
"Dot's why it's a village," replied the little Jew quietly.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

Reports from Utica, N. Y., show a steady growth in membership. Division 6 of Indianapolis has gone out to reach a 300 new membership mark by 1913.

President Taft has accepted their invitation and will soon be the guest of the Hibernians of Savannah.

The large counties in the Eastern States are now electing their delegates to the national convention.

Division 19 of Waltham, Mass., has purchased property for $15,000. Extensive repairs are being made and the division will take possession May 1.

Though seldom heard from, Division 1 of New Albany keeps up the work of the order and is in good condition.

St. Paul Hibernians are organizing a building association and will soon begin the erection of a home for the order.

The division and auxiliary at Pueblo, Col., tendered National President Regan a great public reception Wednesday.

The Kentucky State Board will soon make known where our convention will be held. If not too late, we would suggest Louisville.

An Indianapolis jewelry firm offers a gold ring to the member of Division 6 securing the largest number of applications this year.

Jeffersonville Hibernians sustained a distinct loss by the death of Martin Fogarty, in whose memory resolutions were placed in the records of the division.

Fifty initiated, fifty more elected and a large number of applications received puts the Ladies' Auxiliary of Dundalk, Ireland, well on the way to a membership of 500.

Division 1 meets Tuesday night at Falls City Hall, when several candidates will be reported. There has been a marked increase in the attendance and it is hoped this will continue.

Division 4 continues to receive applications at every meeting. President John Hennessy and the men from Limerick are determined to keep the lead they have held for many years.

The contest being waged by teams headed by Lawrence Mackey, the lawyer, and Tom Quinn, the barber, is attracting much interest in the West End, and besides is materially increasing the membership of Division 3.

Our Irish exchanges note great activity in the Ancient Order in the Emerald Isle. The old divisions are constantly increasing their membership, while in Louth and Meath a number of new ones have been organized.

The County Board will soon announce its program for the annual reunion at Phoenix Hill in June. This year's outing will surpass in every way any ever held in Louisville if the present plans are carried out.

There should be a big turn-out at the meeting of Division 3 next Monday night. President Hourigan says the business to come before the meeting will be of more than ordinary interest and will include plans for the summer months.

The Ladies' Auxiliary meeting is set for next Wednesday, when a membership contest that promises to be exciting will be inaugurated. Some handsome prizes will be offered, and it is expected that at least 100 new members will be secured.

Division 2 meets Wednesday night in the Odd Fellow Temple, Sixth and Walnut, when important reports will be submitted. President Ford and his followers are after a number of new members, and it is predicted the strength of the division will be doubled before the end of the year.

Work is well under way on the theater which the Ancient Order of Hibernians is erecting on the northeast corner of One Hundred and Sixteenth street and Fifth avenue, New York City, at a cost of $155,000. Present conditions indicate that it will be ready for opening early in September.

HOPKINS' THEATER.

Another of those merrily diversified and thoroughly high class vaudeville programmes for which the Hopkins' Theater has earned a national reputation is promised for the delectation of the patrons of that popular amusement house next week. Only headline features have been engaged, and it is quite impossible to select any turn as best in this bill of all stars.

"MONTE CRISTO."

For next week the Avenue announces an engagement of "Monte Cristo," which was for several seasons the vehicle used by James O'Neill, and will be seen here for the first time at popular prices. This is the greatest play that has come to the Avenue this year, and it will doubtless be witnessed by crowded houses.

TAILORS WILL BANQUET.

The Tailors' Union of Louisville, organized fifty years ago, will celebrate its golden jubilee with a grand banquet at Germania Hall on Monday, April 22. Carl N. Bolander will preside as toastmaster, and among the guests will be National Secretary E. J. Baals, of Bloomington, Ill.; Organizer William Straus, of Atlanta, and John B. Lennon.

LIGHT'S SPEED.

One of the greatest discoveries of science is due to observation of the eclipses of Jupiter's moons. It was found that when the earth was in the part of its orbit nearest to Jupiter these eclipses occurred sixteen minutes earlier than when it was in the farthestmost part, whereas by all rules of astronomy they should have occurred at the same minute each time. It was deduced from this that light was not instan-

Next week the Walnut-street Theater will have an elaborate revival of "East Lynne," than which there is not a better known play on the stage today. The company that will present it comes highly recommended from the larger cities, where the play had a successful run.
